“Boundless” Interview by Podcast

Friday, March 6, 2009

Boundless is a magnificent e-magazine and resource from Focus on the Family. I recently talked to friends at Boundless when I was in Colorado Springs, and I recorded an interview with them that is available here. As always, it was great to talk with these creative young Christians. Check out the resources for college students, young adults, and others at Boundless.

I was in Colorado Springs as a member of the Board of Directors of Focus on the Family. Meeting with the Boundless team was icing on the cake.
