Commenting on Commentaries — A Change in Schedule

Thursday, January 26, 2006

Starting today, full-length commentaries at AlbertMohler.com will shift to a schedule of three per week, rather than five. I am making this change in order to allow the larger theme articles to remain on the front page for two full days, and to build more interaction between the commentaries and the blog articles.

The Weblog will be updated daily as usual, with some new features as well. Moving some articles to the Weblog format will allow faster response and may well enhance your experience at the site.

In any event, every aspect of this site is intended to help Christians to think about the issues of the day in a way that is more faithful and more consistent with biblical truth and the Christian worldview. Thanks for thinking along with me.
