Dr. James A. Forbes, Jr.

March 6-9, 1990

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary

Dr. James A. Forbes, Jr., is a well known preacher, lecturer and teacher. Currently he serves as senior minister of the Riverside Church in New York City. Before assuming this pastorate, Dr. Forbes was the Joe R. Engle Professor of Preaching at Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and he was also on the teaching staff of Auburn Theological Seminary in New York City.

Prior to going to New York, Dr. Forbes served as Director of Education at Interfaith Metropolitan Theological Education, Inc. (Inter-Met Seminary) in Washington D.C. This unique theological education program, a seminary without walls, formed the setting for the preparation of pastoral ministry in Protestant, Catholic and Jewish traditions.

Dr. Forbes held pastorates at St. John's United Holy Church of America in Richmond, Virginia from 1965-1973; Holy Trinity Church in Wilmington, North Carolina and St. Paul Holy Church, Roxboro, North Carolina.

He holds a Doctor of Ministry degree from Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, a Master of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary, and he received a Clinical Pastoral Education certificate from the Medical College of Virginia.

In 1986, Dr. Forbes gave the Lyman Beecher Lecture Series at Yale University. The lectures have been published under the title The Holy Spirit and Preaching. He has also participated in the Charles Finney Colloquium at Colgate-Rochester Divinity School; and the Staley Distinguished Scholar Series at Central College in Pella College, Iowa.

Dr. Forbes has been a frequent visiting preacher in churches and conferences. He has often participated in and led workshops and consultations on preaching, spiritual renewal, church mission, evangelism, social action and transformation. He has provided leadership at conferences, retreats and workshops of many denominations and ecumenical groups including those of the World Council of Churches. Dr. Forbes has been a strong voice against injustice in the United States and elsewhere in the world.
